K-Rera wants citizens to spot unregistered properties

Bosky Khanna

BENGALURU, DHNS: Faced with staff shortage and the impossible task of verifying the registration of every property, the Karnataka Real Estate Regulatory Authority (K-Rera) has reached out to people.

It has asked the public to be its eyes and ears to report unregistered properties. Officials said its recent public notice to educate people on the Rera Act was also an attempt to seek

While Rera is not new, it is not very well known, which is a challenge. "People should be informed (about Rera) and they should, inform us if they get to know of any unregistered property," K-Rera chairman MR Kamble said.

Kamble reasoned the decision to seek public help. Officials usually run through advertisements issued by realtors it is incumbent on the citizens to verify the details, but the department is short-staffed and it is also challenging to physically verify all the properties.

Citizens can check the Rera website at the builder's office to ascertain the registration details. They can also demand a copy of the registration from the builders. If the builders fail to produce the copy, citizens should report them to K-Rera, an official said.

Most are not aware that the builder is required to present a copy of the registration or share the online details with

Officials said they also came across cases where builders and realtors have diverted the funds allocated and kept aside in the escrow account, a violation of the Rera Act which buyers should promptly report.

Kamble admitted that the authority was not aware of all methods of irregularities and

Schools told to grow own veggies for noon meals

Govt move aimed at improving nutrition of food

Rashmi Belur

BENGALURU, DHNS: In order to make schools across Karnataka self-reliant when it comes to implementing the ambitious mid-day meal scheme, the state government has ordered as many as 34,000 schools to grow veggies on the premises instead of buying them from

Interestingly, the move is said to be an attempt by the government to increase the taste and nutrition of the food, especially after reports surfaced that many vegetables sold in the open market had pesticide and chemicals.

In its directive, the government has also ordered school authorities to grow the veggies organically, without using pesticides or chemicals. The government is facilitating the schools' tie-up with local horticulture and agriculture

The official said the MHRD also directed other states to emulate Karnataka for its successful implementation of the mid-day meals scheme.

Searing sun? Stop axing trees

Rakshitha R

BENGALURU, DHNS: Well, if the Sun is too harsh in Whitefield, then stop depleting the tree cover.

Once an area where experts had documented the highest number of trees is now a concrete jungle.

An ongoing tree census by Whitefield Rising (WR) documented around 500 plus trees so far, along the roads. They hope to count 1,000 plus trees.

"In an earlier ward-wise survey, Varthur had the highest number of trees. Now the ward has lost most of its trees due to concretisation. The census conducted by the residents shows fewer number of trees," said professor T V

However, Ramachan dra said he cannot comment further as the survey was confined to roads. According to the professor, Bengaluru requires eight trees per person. Whitefield residents took up such a census after the reckless

Students spearhead menstruation campaign

Reshma Ravishanker

BENGALURU: A group of 13 youngsters is reaching out to women, spreading awareness on menstrual hygiene. They are persuading the underprivileged to switch to eco-friendly practices. The informal bunch are school students from Bengaluru

Their goal? Every woman should be able to manage menstruation in a hygienic and dignified way.

Led by a grade 12 science student, the team calls itself RutuChakra, Sanjana Dixit from the National Public School formed the group in January 2018. Having conducted multiple workshops and awareness programmes, RutuChakra has managed to raise Rs 4.5 lakh through crowdfunding. It all began when Sanjana

The flight was scheduled to depart at 3.35 pm. After deplaning the couple, it took off after 5 pm. Naresh Goyal could not be reached for comments. Response to a query sent to Emirates was also awaited. The specific reason for stopping the Goyal couple from taking the flight could not be immediately ascertained. According to sources, Naresh Goval was travelling for a meeting with executives of Gulf carrier Etihad and the Hinduja Group on revival plan for the now-defunct Jet Airways. The airline stopped flying from April 17 due to an acute liquidity crisis. Earlier this week, the Hinduja group had said it was evaluating the opportunity to invest in Jet Airways. In April, Jet Airways officers and staff association president Kiran Pawaskar had written to the Mumbai police commissioner demanding that passports of Goyal and other directors of the airline be impounded as the staff had not been paid salaries for several months. Naresh Goyal and Anita Goyal resigned from the board of Jet Airways in March following a debt restructuring plan.
