

Premium

Younger faculty members, healthcare research, freedom... why IISc leads academia in India

The QS World University Rankings 2023, released on Thursday, saw Bengaluru's Indian Institute of Science rising 31 places to the 155th rank and becoming the highest placed Indian institution.

Written by Aksheev Thakur, Sanath Prasad | Bengaluru |

Updated: June 10, 2022 9:38:24 am

India has set the stage for superior quality and world-recognised tertiary education with 41 universities being ranked in QS World Universities 2023. (File Photo)

The Indian Institute of Science (IISc) in Bengaluru has once again proved it is the most sought-after academic destination for researchers in the country. The QS World University Rankings 2023, released on Thursday, saw the IISc rising 31 places in a year to the 155th rank and becoming the highest placed Indian institution, pushing the Indian Institute of Technology-Bombay to the second position and IIT-Delhi to the third.

You need a subscription to read on.
Now available at Rs 2/day.

Subscribe now

Already a subscriber? Sign in

DEMO

DEMO